MPEG-2-Videosignalcodierung, Federal Patent Court (Bundesgerichtshof), 21 August 2012

Jochen Buehling (Krieger Mes Graf & v. der Groeben) · Friday, December 21st, 2012

The Federal Court of Justice held that data can be a product directly obtained by a patented process and can therefore be protected. An important issue was whether patent rights were exhausted, if the patentee consented to market a video masterband and the infringer used this masterband to produce DVDs. The court discussed whether there may have been a danger of infringement if the infringer did not know about the exhaustion of rights.
