Patent case: Chrysostomos A. Kabanellas vs Republic Of Cyprus

Christos Theodoulou (Theodoulou) · Tuesday, May 28th, 2019

The Court held that the defendant had infringed the claimant's patent for the removal of suspended particles and removal of boron from the polluted waters, through its installation of recycling systems of semi-clean (grey) water in several premises and had failed to compensate the claimant financially for the use without his consent.

Case date: 25 January 2018

Case number: 1/2011

Court: Supreme Court of Cyprus
